THE VIRGINIA REVIEW OF ASIAN STUDIES

VRAS is an annual VCAS publication designed to promote scholarship on Asia in Virginia and the Southeast. We invite material on any aspect of Asian Studies for editorial review. Because VCAS especially encourages research and study on Asia in the classroom, work from graduate or advanced undergraduate students is very welcome. Scholars are especially encouraged to submit research or work "in progress" for the sake of eliciting comments with the full understanding that improved versions of that work may be published elsewhere later.
