THE VIRGINIA REVIEW OF ASIAN STUDIES (VRAS) is an annual VCAS publication appearing in the Fall semester designed to promote advanced scholarship on Asia in Virginia and the Southeast. VCAS invites material on any aspect of Asian Studies for editorial review. Faculty are also invited to submit high quality papers by advanced students. Scholars are especially encouraged to submit research or work "in progress" for the sake of eliciting comments from colleagues with the full understanding that improved versions of that work may be published elsewhere later. We will consider 1-2 high quality undergraduate essays per issue. SEND SUBMISSIONS FOR EDITORIAL CONSIDERATION FOR VOLUME VIII (2005) by 1 July 2005 to: Daniel A. Metraux, Dept. of Asian Studies, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, VA 24401. Send electronic submissions to: metraux@yahoo.com or dmetraux@mbc.edu. Each article/review © its author. No reproduction of any article without author's written permission. VRAS replaces The Occasional Papers of the Virginia Consortium of Asian Studies (Vol. 1-6).

VCAS has held successful seminars on the Asian Economic Crisis (1999) and the recent presidential election in Taiwan (2000), Technology in Asia (2001), China and SE Asia in 2002, Teaching Asian Studies in 2003, and East Asian security in 2004. Individuals and Institutions are strongly encouraged to join VCAS. For details contact any of the officers listed on this masthead. VCAS also provides small grants to member institutions for a variety of projects in Asian Studies. Send applications and inquiries to the President of VCAS. Annual dues for VCAS are $75 for all colleges/institutions and $10 for individuals.
